THE MADISONARY

A Fictional Language System within the Baby Madison Universe

OFFICIAL CREATIVE DOCUMENT

Intellectual Property & Research Overview

AUTHORSHIP

Mason Ewing
Creator of the Baby Madison Universe

Corentin Ewing Cormont
Co-Creator — Madisonary

Affiliation: Mason Ewing Corporation
United States

ABSTRACT

The Madisonary is an original fictional linguistic system developed as part of the Baby Madison universe, within the broader Jonathanland Universe franchise.

It consists of an invented vocabulary, structured definitions, and contextual usage designed to enhance storytelling, emotional expression, and character identity.

The Madisonary functions as both a narrative tool and a scalable intellectual property framework, intended for integration across multiple media, including animation, film, publishing, and digital environments.

This document presents the official structure and conceptual foundation of the Madisonary while certain elements may be selectively disclosed to preserve intellectual property rights.

PURPOSE OF THIS DOCUMENT

This document has been created to:

- establish authorship and ownership
- provide a structured presentation of the Madisonary
- support intellectual property protection
- enable DOI registration and public indexing
- document a creative linguistic system within a fictional universe

INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY NOTICE

The Madisonary is an original creation owned by Mason Ewing and Corentin Ewing Cormont.

All words, definitions, structures, and conceptual frameworks presented in this document are part of a protected creative work.

Unauthorized reproduction, distribution, or commercial use is strictly prohibited.

Certain elements may be intentionally limited or abstracted in publicly shared versions to preserve proprietary rights.

DOCUMENT STATUS

Official Version — Creative & Research Documentation
Prepared for DOI Registration and Intellectual Property Protection

© 2026 Mason Ewing & Corentin Ewing Cormont
All Rights Reserved

STRUCTURAL FOUNDATION OF THE MADISONARY

INTRODUCTION

The Madisonary is a fictional linguistic system designed to create a unique expressive layer within the Baby Madison universe.

It is not a traditional language, but rather a structured creative vocabulary system combining:

- emotional expression
- narrative context
- symbolic meaning

Each word is intentionally designed to carry both a functional and expressive dimension.

CORE PRINCIPLES

The Madisonary is built upon the following foundational principles:

1. Creative Originality

All terms are invented and form part of an original intellectual property framework.

2. Emotional Expression

Words are designed to express feelings, moods, and social interactions in a playful and intuitive way.

3. Narrative Integration

Each term is embedded within the storytelling universe of Baby Madison and Jonathanland.

4. Simplicity & Accessibility

The language is designed to be easily understandable, pronounceable, and adaptable across different audiences.

5. Scalability

The Madisonary is intended to expand over time, allowing the continuous creation of new words and meanings.

LINGUISTIC STRUCTURE

Each entry in the Madisonary follows a standardized format:

- Term (invented word)
- Grammatical Category (noun, verb, adjective, etc.)
- Definition
- Examples (contextual usage)
- Use Case (narrative or character-based usage)

This structure ensures consistency, readability, and compatibility with storytelling formats.

CREATIVE FUNCTION

The Madisonary serves multiple purposes within the Baby Madison universe:

- Enhancing character identity
- Creating a recognizable linguistic signature
- Strengthening emotional storytelling
- Supporting transmedia expansion

It functions as both a creative device and a branding element.

LIMITATION OF DISCLOSURE

This document presents a structured overview of the Madisonary system.

Certain elements, including full vocabulary sets, internal linguistic rules, and extended definitions, may be intentionally omitted or simplified in order to preserve intellectual property and prevent unauthorized replication.

POSITIONING

The Madisonary is positioned as:

- a fictional language system
- a narrative enhancement tool
- a scalable intellectual property asset

It is designed for integration across multiple industries, including entertainment, publishing, and digital media.

© 2026 Mason Ewing & Corentin Ewing Cormont
All Rights Reserved

LINGUISTIC RULES AND WORD FORMATION SYSTEM

OVERVIEW

The Madisonary is based on a flexible and creative word formation system designed to ensure coherence, originality, and scalability.

Rather than following strict grammatical rules, the system prioritizes expressive clarity and emotional resonance.

WORD FORMATION PRINCIPLES

The creation of Madisonary terms follows identifiable patterns:

1. Root-Based Construction

Many words are built around recurring phonetic roots such as:

- “Madi”
- “Madi-” variations

These roots serve as a recognizable signature of the Madisonary and reinforce its identity within the Baby Madison universe.

2. Sound Symbolism

Words are often designed based on how they sound, allowing intuitive understanding.

- Soft sounds → warmth, affection, comfort
- Dynamic sounds → action, movement, excitement

This approach ensures accessibility and emotional immediacy.

3. Hybrid Structure

Words may combine:

- familiar phonetic elements
- invented suffixes or endings
- playful linguistic variations

This hybridization allows flexibility and creativity in expanding the vocabulary.

4. Multi-Category Usage

A single word can function as:

- noun
- verb
- adjective

depending on context.

This fluidity enhances expressive richness and simplifies usage across different situations.

GRAMMATICAL FLEXIBILITY

The Madisonary intentionally allows grammatical flexibility.

There is no rigid requirement for:

- tense agreement
- pluralization rules
- strict syntactic structure

Instead, meaning is derived primarily from context and emotional intent.

CONTEXTUAL INTERPRETATION

Meaning in the Madisonary relies heavily on:

- narrative context
- speaker intention
- emotional tone

This makes the language highly adaptable within storytelling environments.

NAMING CONSISTENCY

To maintain coherence, all Madisonary words follow:

- a consistent phonetic identity
- a recognizable stylistic pattern
- a unified creative tone

This ensures that all terms feel part of the same linguistic universe.

EVOLUTION CAPACITY

The Madisonary is designed to evolve continuously.

New words can be created through:

- variation of existing roots
- contextual adaptation
- narrative expansion

This allows the system to grow alongside the Baby Madison universe.

PROTECTION NOTE

The word formation system presented in this document reflects a conceptual framework.

Certain internal rules, advanced structures, and extended linguistic mechanisms may be intentionally simplified or partially disclosed to preserve intellectual property.

© 2026 Mason Ewing & Corentin Ewing Cormont
All Rights Reserved

STANDARD ENTRY FORMAT OF THE MADISONARY

OVERVIEW

Each word in the Madisonary follows a standardized entry format designed to ensure clarity, consistency, and usability across all media formats.

This structured approach allows the Madisonary to function both as a creative dictionary and as a scalable linguistic system.

ENTRY STRUCTURE

Each Madisonary entry is composed of the following elements:

1. TERM

The invented word itself, written in its official form.

This represents the core linguistic unit of the Madisonary.

2. DEFINITION

A clear and concise explanation of the meaning of the term.

The definition may include:

- emotional meaning
- functional meaning
- symbolic interpretation

3. GRAMMATICAL CATEGORY

Each term is assigned one or more grammatical roles:

- Noun
- Verb
- Adjective

Some terms may belong to multiple categories depending on usage.

4. EXAMPLES

Examples demonstrate how the word is used in context.

These examples are:

- conversational
- narrative
- situational

They help illustrate the tone and meaning of the term.

5. USE (CONTEXTUAL APPLICATION)

The “Use” section explains how the word is integrated into the Baby Madison universe.

It may include:

- character usage
- narrative context
- storytelling relevance

This reinforces the connection between language and universe-building.

VISUAL PRESENTATION

Madisonary entries are designed with a distinctive visual identity, including:

- stylized typography
- color-coded sections
- structured layout

This enhances readability and strengthens brand recognition.

CONSISTENCY RULE

All entries must respect:

- the same structural order
- a unified tone
- consistent formatting

This ensures coherence across the entire Madisonary.

ADAPTABILITY

The entry format is designed to be adaptable across:

- books and publications
- animated series and films
- digital applications
- merchandising and educational tools

PROTECTION NOTE

The structure of the Madisonary entries is part of the intellectual property.

While the format is presented for documentation purposes, its application within the Baby Madison universe remains protected.

© 2026 Mason Ewing & Corentin Ewing Cormont
All Rights Reserved

MADISONARY — OFFICIAL ENTRIES (SECTION 1)

MADIGOOZ

Definition:
Noun — Expressing a feeling of vitality or happiness.

Examples:
"I slept well this morning, I'm feeling madigoozed!"
"I feel like I'm in madigooz mode to go play a good basketball game."

Use:
Many characters in the Jonathanland universe use the word "Madigooz" to describe a positive emotional state or energetic mood.

MADI-HIEW

Definition:
Adjective — Describes someone kind, adorable, friendly, or fun.

Examples:
"My best friend Christopher is the madi-hiewest person I know!"
"My neighbor is really someone very madi-hiew! Everyone in my town loves her."

Use:
Baby Madison often uses this term to describe people he deeply appreciates, such as his mother Élise, whom he considers the most madi-hiew person in the world.

MADILOOBOTT

Definition:
Verb — To hang out, take a stroll, or spend relaxed time with others.

Examples:
"I madiloobott with one of my best buddies every evening in Jonathanland."
"Tomorrow, with the whole family, we're going to madiloobott in the forest. Afterward, we plan to have a picnic."
"I madiloobott with my dog through the streets of Jonathanland."

Use:
In Eli Tilman's adventures, the young hero often enjoys madiloobott late at night with his close friends Logan Lost and Johnny Glanderwood.

MADIPOOSH

Definition:
Verb and Adjective — Term used to express the satisfaction of having eaten well and feeling content.

Examples:
"I'm feeling madipoosh, my meal was delicious!"
"Mom cooked a delicious dinner, and we all ate well — we're madipoosh!"

Use:
A word widely appreciated by many characters in the Baby Madison universe, often used after sharing a joyful and fulfilling meal.

© 2026 Mason Ewing & Corentin Ewing Cormont
All Rights Reserved

MADISONARY — OFFICIAL ENTRIES (SECTION 2)

JOHNLANDER

Definition:
Noun — A resident or citizen of Jonathanland.

Examples:
"Being a Johnlander means representing the values of unity and kindness."
"Every Johnlander is proud to be part of this beautiful city."

Use:
The term "Johnlander" is commonly used to describe individuals living in Jonathanland, reinforcing a sense of identity and belonging within the universe.

NASPORIK

Definition:
Adjective — Describes a highly intelligent, clever, or insightful person.

Examples:
"My brother is really nasporik, he always finds solutions to every problem."
"She gave such a nasporik answer that everyone was impressed."

Use:
Characters use "Nasporik" to highlight intelligence, strategy, or quick thinking in both everyday and challenging situations.

MADI-AZGA

Definition:
Adjective — Describes someone who is calm, relaxed, and at peace.

Examples:
"After meditating in the garden, I feel very madi-azga."
"He stayed madi-azga even in a stressful situation."

Use:
This term is often used in the Baby Madison universe to express emotional balance and inner calmness.

MADICILLY

Definition:
Adjective — Describes something gentle, soft, emotionally warm, or comforting.

Examples:
"Her voice is so madicilly, it makes everyone feel safe."
"The atmosphere in Jonathanland feels madicilly during the evening."

Use:
"Madicilly" is frequently used to describe comforting environments, kind personalities, or emotionally soothing experiences.

© 2026 Mason Ewing & Corentin Ewing Cormont
All Rights Reserved

FINAL STATEMENT & INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY DECLARATION

OFFICIAL DECLARATION

This document constitutes the official creative and intellectual property record of the fictional language system known as the Madisonary.

The Madisonary is an original creation developed within the Baby Madison universe, part of the Jonathanland Universe franchise.

OWNERSHIP CONFIRMATION

All rights, titles, and interests related to the Madisonary are exclusively owned by:

Mason Ewing
Creator — Baby Madison Universe

Corentin Ewing Cormont
Co-Creator — Madisonary

SCOPE OF PROTECTION

The Madisonary includes, but is not limited to:

- all invented words and expressions
- definitions and meanings
- linguistic structures and patterns
- narrative usage and contextual integration
- conceptual framework of the fictional language system
- integration within the Baby Madison and Jonathanland Universe

All of the above elements are considered part of a unified intellectual property.

RIGHTS RESERVED

All rights are strictly reserved worldwide.

No part of this work may be:

- reproduced
- distributed
- adapted
- translated
- commercialized

without prior written authorization from the rights holders.

LEGAL POSITIONING

The Madisonary is recognized as:

- a proprietary fictional language system
- a core component of a broader intellectual property
- a scalable creative asset designed for use across multiple industries including:

- entertainment (film, animation, series)
- publishing
- fashion and lifestyle (Madison Color)
- digital and interactive platforms

GOOD FAITH DECLARATION

This work has been created in good faith and represents an original creation.

It does not intentionally replicate or derive from any existing copyrighted work.

DOCUMENT STATUS

Final Version — Creative & Research Documentation
Prepared for DOI registration, copyright submission, and intellectual property protection

FINAL STATEMENT

The Madisonary represents a unique creative language system designed to evolve, expand, and contribute to a global storytelling ecosystem.

It is both a narrative tool and a long-term intellectual property asset.

© 2026 Mason Ewing & Corentin Ewing Cormont
All Rights Reserved